To whom it may concern,

We have had the opportunity to work with Diane Matson on several occasions over the years, and have found her to be the very definition of professionalism. She is lovely to work with, as well as talented, creative, and versatile. Her enthusiasm and great ideas would be a wonderful addition to any production.

Our studio only hires actors for our still productions as stock illustrates a story captured in a still frame. Ours is a collaboration with the talent and Diane always came through. In one instance we were following a story line suggested by the creative director working for an agency we hoped would represent us overseas. They must have liked the work we did with Diane because we got the contract, and it's proven to be a valuable one.

With Diane no producer or director could go wrong.

Sincerely
Patricia Kane
